Villa dei Pomodori

Vibonati, Campania

With stunning sea views and the attractive medieval hilltop village of Vibonati on one's doorstep, Villa dei Pomodori is a magical and luxurious discovery in the natural park of Cilento - a land of outstanding natural beauty and unforgettable hospitality.

Nestled within the medieval village of Vibonati in the heart of Cilento, Villa dei Pomodori is an elegant and luxurious home with magical views to the Gulf of Policastro below, the green and lush mountains opposite and the enchanting village to the right. At Villa dei Pomodori guests will cherish relaxing on the spacious terrace with its abundant choice of the best quality sunbeds, hammocks and sunshades after a dip in the beautiful pool followed by a fresco meal of delicious and mouth-watering Cilento dishes. Here, one can truly unwind and enjoy the warmth and hospitality of this area rich in history, renowned for its outstanding coastline, numerous historic sites such as the Certosa di Padula monastery and fabulous walking and canoeing in the Val di Diano.

Built on four levels, Villa di Pomodori provides extremely comfortable and spacious accommodation for gatherings of family and friends. Each of the bedrooms enjoys luxurious en suite shower facilities of yellow Siena marble as well as tasteful, high quality furnishings and superb views. There is a large terrace on the first floor onto which three of the bedrooms have access. Throughout the property there is a feeling of a much loved home thoughtfully designed with lovely wooden floors, a fabulous collection of artwork and bright fabrics. At the top of the villa is the pièce de la resistance - a spacious attic which has been transformed into a fantastic open plan room with living, and dining areas and a superb kitchen/bar area with all mod cons one could wish for! A great venue for youngsters to gather or in the cooler months with its fireplace, warm atmosphere, TV and games area and the bar with retro stools and original prosciutto slicer.

The fantastic kitchen with dining and living area leads onto the pool terrace with its covered dining area. Equipped with everything one could wish for, those guests who love cooking whilst on holiday will love creating sumptuous dishes here and for those who wish to totally relax then they can sit back and enjoy the fresh, local dishes provided by delightful Daniela. The cuisine of the Cilento area is exceptional – sundrenched fruit and vegetables, local salamis and cheeses, pastries and of course freshly caught fish that is hard to beat! At Villa dei Pomodori there is even a wonderfully tended vegetable garden with fresh tomatoes and aubergines and much more – not to mention the juicy fresh lemons. Highly recommended is a boat trip along the Gulf of Policastro where one can reach the most magical bays and coves imaginable – only possible to access by boat and where the water is crystal clear for diving into. One can also take the hydrofoil to the Amalfi coast and Capri and enjoy witnessing another beautiful coastline but away from the crowds and chaos.

At Villa di Pomodori guests can truly savour the splendour of relaxed southern Italian living. Days can be spent simply reading, swimming and eating within the comfort and beauty of the villa as well as adventures along the coast, into the National Park or explorations of the many local villages. There is something for everyone. A unique and very special home, Villa dei Pomodori is an exceptional find and cannot be too highly recommended.
