Trullo Paolo

nr Ostuni, Puglia

A special and magical home, Trullo Paolo is all about outdoor living, relaxation and absorbing the joys of warm and beautiful Puglia. An exquisite and stylish property ideal for honeymooners, couples or a family, Trullo Paolo cannot fail to disappoint.

Trullo Paolo really is special. It is the epitome of great contemporary style combined with original authentic construction maintaining character and tradition at the same time as cleverly incorporating a more modern 'look'. Totally private, Trullo Paolo is set within the beautiful Itria Valley in the Murge area of Puglia. With its spacious gardens, fantastic outdoor living areas and fabulous views, guests will cherish long, lazy days here living al fresco amidst the wonderful Puglian vegetation.

Trullo Paolo has been restored with great taste by a local architect in keeping with the environment and blended with contemporary interior design and superb furnishings. The feel is simple yet luxurious, light and spacious, relaxed yet homely. Honeymooners will love this property, as will two couples wishing to holiday together or a small family. The enchanting interiors are inspirational and clever use has made of the space inside the trullo and in keeping with the natural colours and architecture. Both double bedrooms have their own excellent en suite shower rooms and there is also a small additional 'cabin' with sofa bed for an additional child. The living area provides really comfortable living with a kitchenette at one end and a dining area but, in essence, guests live outside where there is an excellent outdoor kitchen and dining area and two wood ovens. Every little detail has been thought from superb shower rooms with fine toiletries to luxurious fabrics and subtle lighting.

In addition there is a charming dependence which is ideal for another couple plus one or two small children. The double bedroom enjoys a stylish en suite shower room and there is a small extra bedroom with divan bed, plus kitchenette and sitting room leading to the covered verandah area.

The pool area is heaven. Here, guests can laze away the days surrounded by the wonderfully impressive olive trees and the rich vegetation with a glass of intense Puglian wine in hand and a good book before a delicious al fresco lunch enjoying the many culinary specialities of the area. For the more energetic, then of course there is no end of enchanting places to visit be it the 'white villages' of the surrounding area such as Ostuni, the various beaches to the north and south or the magnificent city of Lecce, often called the 'Florence' of the south. The choice is endless and Trullo Paolo is ideally located for exploring the rich variety of Puglia.

The owner of Trullo Paolo is fantastic and will do everything to ensure your stay is memorable and special. He is happy to assist with cook service or massages or organize tours and bike rental. Chosen by Merrion as a property of distinction and style, we are delighted to include Trullo Paolo in our cherry picked selection of properties in Puglia.
