Biblioteca Liberty

Palermo, Sicily

Walking into Biblioteca Liberty takes one's breath away! This quite fantastic architectural creation with original, creative interior design and warmth of character, in the heart of Palermo, is a glorious, luxury apartment at any time of year.

Situated in the gentrified Politeama area of Palermo, this fabulous apartment is located on the second floor of a liberty style palazzo. Much loved home and design of highly nominated architect/designer Giuseppe Amato, Biblioteca Liberty cannot fail to impress as soon as one enters. The original and creative design and interiors, the warm atmosphere and high quality are striking and combine perfectly with the authentic and genuine Sicilian.

Spacious, steeped in character, furnished with beautiful pieces and decorated with great taste and flavour, Biblioteca Liberty is ideal for one to three couples. Each of the double bedrooms has been individually designed and enjoys its own characteristic balcony, gorgeous original Sicilian tiles, romantic décor and relaxing neutral colours. The owners have really thought of anything to ensure not only absolute comfort but also an atmosphere of genuine Sicily, a real home and some very special furnishings.

The two shower rooms are out of this world! Quite unique and only to be experienced for real, each has been designed with great flair using top materials and exceptional taste with clean lines and relaxing tones. The kitchen is enticing in every way and ideal for anyone who loves cooking and who might like to enjoy the fun cookery classes which can be organised here as well as the option of a great Sicilian chef to prepare delicious classic dishes in the comfort of this welcoming and atmospheric home.

The pièce de resistance is, of course, the property's namesake – the Biblioteca (library)! With prestigious books on each wall lined up the ceiling, two living rooms create the centrepiece of the apartment. The larger of the living rooms enjoys an area suited to private dining plus comfy sofa whilst the other is more cosy for sitting with a book with its glass table ideal for smart working. There are, indeed, books all around this wonderful home and some fabulous original pieces of art and objets d'art. a feast for one's eyes.

Everywhere one looks there is something to gaze upon and absorb in this quite sensational home.

Highly recommended for a short break to Palermo, an extended stay of several weeks, one's honeymoon or a week with friends, Biblioteca Liberty is magical. One can soak up the energy and magic of Palermo and all it has to offer as well as exploring beyond to perhaps Cefalù and the Madonie or Trapani and Favignana, the Greek temples and much more! With its wonderfully welcoming owners who are available to assist with all manner of concierge/activities, its prestigious location in Palermo and its remarkable décor and ambience, I cannot recommend Biblioteca Liberty too highly.
