The original estate of Cordevigo was once an ancient Roman settlement lying in the heart of the Veneto with Villa Cordevigo being an ancient patrician residence dating back to the 18th century. The Cordevigo complex originally belonged to Count Lombardo and today is owned by the Cristoforetti and Delibori families who have transformed it into an idyllic wine relais which maintains the atmosphere of a relaxed country house hotel.

As one arrives up the cypress tree lined avenue one cannot fail to be struck by the beauty and perfection of the manicured vineyards and landscape. Beyond, by foot, one enters into the enchanting Italianate garden with its fountain set within the buildings of the main villa with its two lower 'barchesse' (wings) and enchanting Renaissance patrician chapel. The colours of the buildings are a rich mix of the wonderful ochres and burnt terracotta typical of the Veneto and one immediately is taken back in time within this magical oasis of peace and harmony.

The thirty-four rooms and suites are all individually furnished and decorated and of varying dimensions. Great care has been taken to maintain the original features and architecture of the building and the interiors are a clever combination of contemporary mixed with historical thus maintaining authentic with the very best in comfort. One cannot fail to be impressed by the quality and exquisite taste of the fabulous rich fabrics, carefully selected lighting, excellent bathrooms and fine linens. There is a peace and tranquillity throughout and each room has its own character and something unique and particular to offer. One of the key attractions at Villa Cordevigo is of course the dining and wine experience!

Michelin starred chef Marco Marras focuses on traditional flavours using high quality local and Mediterranean products whilst reflecting the aristocratic history of Cordevigo. Classic Italian recipes and more contemporary fusion dishes provide guests with a truly memorable gastronomic experience. The superbly stocked wine cellar at Oseleta Restaurant prides itself on being one of the richest of the area with over 600 labels and the sommelier at Villa Cordevigo will certainly be appreciated by wine connoisseurs. In addition to the Oseleta Restaurant guests can enjoy delicious dining on the terrace of the less formal Bistro both at breakfast time as well as under the stars in the evening and not to be missed is the Fiordilej bar for aperitivi or digestivi be it within the cosy atmosphere of the lounge or outside on the large and wonderful garden terrace looking over the park.

The Essentia Spa, with its extensive range of treatments with exclusive Vinoble products based on wine and grapes, provides guests with the perfect opportunity to enjoy an exclusive wellness experience and the fabulous swimming pool could not be a better place to chill out with a book and a glass of Cordevigo wine after perhaps a morning exploring Lake Garda by private boat, a bike ride around the vineyards or a visit to glorious nearby Verona.

One is totally and utterly looked after at Villa Cordevigo and nothing has been
